Mr. Coolidge Sees Hope
Hawks, Champion Flyer
Surprising Barbarians
Mr. Hoover Will Work

Mr. Coolidge, writing for a newspaper syndicate, observes the educational "effects" or "modern" inventions. "Now all kinds of cars with people from all sections are circulating all over the country. Another important influence is the radio. A third is the motion picture. These influences have supplemented the schoolhouse in banishing ignorance."

On the other hand, these new inventions do not appear to have increased mental concentration. "What the individual thinks in solitude, not what he says at in a crowd, that makes him worth while."

Milton, Roger Bacon in his blindness in prison, Bunyan in jail, Voltaire and Mirabeau in the prison of the Bastille, developed excellent ideas. Life should not be spent with the radio turned on or the automobile engine "purring" always.

According to the police, Chinese "tong" men in New York are learning "sucker" methods from the West. Gentlemen of one tong sometimes kill gentlemen of another tong, and hiterto each tong has done its own killing.

It isn't among modern gangsters and racketeers. They hire somebody, usually a youthful cocaine victim, to do the killing, and put the doomed man "on the spot." The killer shoots, not knowing the name of his victim or why he is killed.

Following this excellent idea, New York's On Leon Tong hired two young white men to murder seven enemies of a rival tong. The white youths told the police. Three Chinese and one Filipino arrested, six guns, several hundred rounds of ammunition seized.

Robert Kronfeld, Austrian glider flyer, better than his own world record, gliding 64 miles in a storm. Others feared to glide in such weather, but Kronfeld went up, "hooked on to a little cloud," as he put it, and, carried by the wind that carried the cloud, he went sweeping 64 miles over the mountains.

No wonder gliding attracts romantic youth! Who would have dreamed a few years ago, looking at the clouds, that a man would go up on a frail board, "hook on" to one of the clouds and sail with it?

Captain Hawks is now the world's champion flyer, and has beaten all records across this continent westward and back again.

Flying from Los Angeles to New York in 12 1/2 hours, he beat Colonel Lindbergh's record by 2 1/2 hours, and his engine was never "wide open."

Describing how he "loped along at 250 miles an hour" between Albuquerque and Wichita before a fall wind, he said he hoped to make the crossing in shorter time later this fall when conditions are better. Three thousand miles in twelve and a half hours is not bad. At that rate of speed, you could fly around the world in less than five days. Jules Verne fever thought of that.

Having given the Afridis twenty-four hours' notice, the British air men bomb their defense towers and many houses, knocking them down as children would overturn a house of sand.

The barbarians were surprised to see how one small bomb could destroy what they considered "an impregnable fortress."

What will happen to western civilization if the barbarians decide to build planes for their own use? What would happen if our highly civilized friends of Asia decided to stop fighting each other and attack through the air somebody in the West?

President Hoover gives up his western vacation trip, much needed, to remain in Washington for the rest of the hot season, directing the drought relief campaign.

There are two bad features to the drought. First, the lack of rain prevents the growth of crops; second, the lack of moisture encourages insect life, promoting diseases that destroy plants.

On the Hudson, near Sing Sing prison, four persons in a sinking boat were in danger of drowning. Four convicts, sentenced to long terms, with many years of prison life ahead of them, asked for a chance to save those in danger, saying: "We will come back." The guards wisely consented. The convicts saved the four, and they did come back to serve out their terms.

There are thousands in prisons that with a better chance in youth would have been useful men. There are thousands living in luxury that would be in prison if their childhood had been the same as the average convict's childhood.

SCHOOL OPENS TUES. SEPT. 2

According to the announcement received from the Superintendent the Grayling Public Schools will begin the 1930-31 session Tuesday, September 2nd with the following faculty:

Hazel Cassidy, Grayling, Life, M.S.N.C., 1st grade.

Ina M. Tapio, Calumet, Life, M. S. N. C., Kindergarten.

Tuesday will be used as organization day, enrolling students, checking programs, selling supplies. Every student that expects to attend school this year in any department should be on hand promptly at 8:30 Tuesday morning in order that he may take his part in the making of the various programs. Otherwise he may find a program in operation that fails to harmonize with his individual needs when he arrives late. Regular classroom work will begin in all departments Wednesday.

Books and supplies may be purchased from the school book store for cash only. If we might offer a suggestion, parents of young children might feel safer sending a check payable to the School Book Store only than they would be if the cash were to be given to the pupils. In case the check were lost it could not be cashed.

MISS GRAYLING GIVEN PURSE

Appeared At Rialto And At Reception

The return of the queen to Grayling last Saturday proclaimed a gala day to our citizens and they all turned out to honor her with their utmost ability and the apparent good will prevailing was a tribute to the cooperation and interest our townspeople have taken in this affair which we have sponsored to help put Grayling on the map.

The program at seven o'clock opened with a presentation of Miss Grayling (Miss Edith Bidvia) by T. W. Hanson, president of the Board of Trade at the Rialto Theatre. In his short talk Mr. Hanson thanked Miss Bidvia for the fine manner in which she had represented us both in Bay City at the Eastern Michigan Water Carnival and on the tour with the other queens of the Butterfield Theaters in Michigan. At this same time he presented her with a purse containing five $20 dollar gold pieces with the compliments of the Village of Grayling.

Following the movie was a reception at the Officers Club House at Lake Margrethe where the guests were personally presented to Miss Grayling by Mr. Hanson. With Miss Bidvia in the receiving line was Mrs. O. P. Schumann, who acted as her chaperone while she was in Bay City. A delightful dancing party followed with music furnished by a group of local musicians who volunteered their services and were very much enjoyed. The Grayling Band also rendered a concert from the piazza of the club.

Next week Miss Grayling will take her place in school with the other girls as Miss Edith Bidvia. In spite of all the favors and honors that have been bestowed upon her she still feels that she is just one of us. We are confident that by her modest manner that she will continue to be a credit to her parents, her school and her home town.

TRUCK CRASHES INTO POP STAND

Mrs. George Miller's pop and ice cream stand on U.S. 27 was damaged on Monday morning when a State Highway truck driven by E. Garver struck the building. The accident was unavoidable and Garver was not blamed.

The truck was headed north and heavily loaded with binder. A car ahead of the truck was brought to a short stop without a signal to the truck driver. Just then, a car passing from the north prevented Garver from turning to the left side of the road and he turned to the right to prevent an accident, which may have been fatal to many. The fender of the truck caught the corner of the stand, tearing the building off of the base and damaging some of the goods. There was no damage done to the truck and no one happened to be in the stand at the time and no one was hurt.

Drive up to Sherwood's Lodge for your fish, chicken or steak dinner. Meals served at any hour. All you can eat for 75c. Sherwood's Lodge is south on U.S. 27 at Sallens on George Lake.

CLAUDE BARBER WRITES FROM RUSSIA

Stalingrad, Russia
July 16, 1930

Dear Folks at Home:
Guess I had better get busy and give you a line tonight. About all the pastime I have is writing letters but it seems I get few in return. Guess it's because it takes so long for a letter to reach the States. A note of any kind is sure appreciated. Just beginning to get a few answers to the ones I wrote when I arrived here. It has been quite warm for the past two weeks, had a good rain yesterday and it is cooler today. Received a letter from a fellow that worked for me at the Chrysler and he says things are slack in Detroit, guess it's about the same every place in the States. We got Detroit on the radio Monday night relayed through London. Seemed good to get some music that you could understand. The music here is chopped up until it's hard to get any sense out of it. The band that plays for our dances is the best that I have heard yet. We have a good bunch of fellows here and the time passes quite fast. We have a ball game nearly every night. Sure interesting to watch the Russians looking on, guess they think we are crazy. They have no sport of any kind and wonder what it is all about. About all they do for pastime is drink and they sure know how to do that. They are a strange class of people and it's quite hard to get used to their ways. They think every American is rich because they have good clothes and lots of money and are backward about making acquaintance.
I suppose Roscommon is having her busy time of the year now. I sure would like to be there myself, but you know what I would order for the first meal. We get no pastry here except some small cake that we call Johnny cake that they put a little sugar on. Haven't seen a piece of pie since I left the States. Well I must beat it to bed. I'm sending along a few pictures we had taken along the route, will send more soon when I get them. Tell By and Ellis worth to write. Love to all.
You Son,
Claude Barber.

BATTLESHIP MODERNIZATION

A bill authorizing $300,000,000, for the modernization of the battleships New Mexico, Mississippi, and Idaho, has been approved by the House Naval Committee by a majority vote for submission to Congress, and will in all probability be acted upon during the next session this December, according to the Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit. The Navy Department plans to assign the Mississippi and Idaho to navy yards about January 1, 1931, and the New Mexico he retained in the fleet until these two vessels are completed, due to inadvisability of taking more than two battleships away from the fleet at one time.

He was the son of the late Ira and Lucinda Sewell who formerly resided in Pere Cheney and is survived by his wife and four sons. Mr. and Mrs. Peck plan to attend the funeral.

Thomas Olette, about 68 years of age, passed away at the McClain boarding house early Friday morning. He had been staying at the County Infirmary since May, at which place he seemed to be discontented. He moved to McClain's boarding house where he died just two days later. Death was due to alcohol poisoning. Emil Kraus was called as coroner and found a half pint bottle one quarter full of denatured alcohol by his bedside. Burial was held in Elmwood cemetery on August 22nd.

VOTE FOR

Herman N. Butler

EAST TAWAS

Candidate for State Senator on the Republican Ticket

He has lived and been among you for 25 years—you all know him—he has always been a booster for northern Michigan. He has been a real worker for his home town, and county—and you can depend on him to be of real help to every part of the district. The State of Michigan will know just what counties are included in the 28th District if Butler is successful on Sept. 9th.

He is past president of the North Eastern Michigan Development Bureau and is Vice President of the East Michigan Tourist Ass'n.

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Julius Jensen and son Harold of Milford visited here over Sunday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Robey Wednesday morning at Mercy hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol Turner of Chicago are visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. Fannie Buckley, this week.

The Ladies Aid Society of Michigan Memorial church will hold a picnic at the Pines Friday, September 5th, the weather permitting.

Mrs. Holger C. Schmidt and Miss Marie were guests a few days this week of Mrs. Bruce Freeman at her cottage at Higgins Lake.

Don't forget the Farmer's and Old-timers annual picnic at the Beaver Creek town hall Monday, Labor Day. Come and stay all day. Everybody invited.

Mrs. Leo White and daughter Joyce Jane, who have been spending several weeks here are leaving today for Bay City to spend a couple of days before returning to their home in Adrian.

Alfred Hermann of South Bend, Ind., spent Sunday with his family in Grayling and also visited his mother, Mrs. Anna Hermann and family. Mrs. Hermann and little daughter Barbara who have been spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bates returned home with him Sunday.

Six army planes flying over Grayling in formation Tuesday nearly gave many of us cricks in our necks. It was a gorgeous sight, calling all the people out of their places of business and homes. We wonder if all the up-turned faces looked as funny to the aviators as to us here on the ground.

Roscommon has had a big break. The president of his golf course, R. C. Durant, has brought Walter Hagen, the well-known golf champion, there to put on a demonstration this Thursday afternoon. Also Mr. Hagen is bringing with him his fourteen year old son who is a child golf wonder. It is most unusual for a player of his standing to play on a small course and Roscommon may well count themselves among the fortunate.

In honor of their house guest, Mrs. Dewey Horning of Detroit, Mrs. Marius Hanson and Miss Hanson were hostesses to a number of friends at a very delightful bridge luncheon Thursday afternoon. Eight tables were filled for bridge after the luncheon, prizes being won by Mrs. S. N. Insley, Mrs. Olaf Michelson, Mrs. Ben Jerome and the guest of honor prize to Mrs. Horning. A profusion of garden flowers attractively arranged, added to the pleasure of the occasion.

The State Fair at Detroit will begin next Sunday and continue to Saturday night, Sept. 6th. A number of advertisements have been published in this paper for several weeks past announcing the attractions, and they are plenty. There will be everything to amuse, entertain, and inspire you. Such a fair is educational as well as entertaining, and besides it is a fair that belongs to the people of Michigan. There is a big time in store for all who may be privileged to be in attendance.

The Rialto Theatre presented an unusually fine program last week, Sunday and Monday "The Big House" was shown to packed houses even necessitating a third show on Sunday evening. The play while a rather unpleasant one was very interesting and enlightening and the acting was splendid. Then Tuesday and Wednesday the picture "With Byrd At The South Pole" was presented. This was a most remarkable movie which, in spite of its being entirely actual scenes and with no plot, held your interest to the extent that you were disappointed to have it over. The pictures were taken by two excellent camera men who were sent out by the Paramount company and accompanied Byrd on his hazardous expedition solely to bring to us the eye version of that world record. Sometimes when the great ice plateau on which the men were camped was cracking under their feet and the men were seen scrambling for safety we wondered how the camera men had the courage and presence of mind to stay to the last minute and take the scene. The tremendousness of the Byrd flight over the north pole is brought to us through this picture in a most vivid manner and the people of Grayling who were privileged to see the movie were extremely fortunate.

Somewhat or other we have an idea that even now Jim Corbett could lick most of these modern heavyweight champs.

Next Saturday will be the last day in which you may register to vote in the primary election September 9th. See your township clerk before next Saturday night and get your name on the registration list.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ahman and little daughter Gwendolyn of Saginaw are visiting at the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ahman and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cassidy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brady and family spent Sunday in Standish visiting Mrs. Brady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bartlett. A sister of Mrs. Brady, who had been her guest returned to her home that day also.

OAKLAND EDUCATES MEN FOR KEY JOBS

Uses Ancient Apprenticeship System With Modern Trimmings

"The apprenticeship system maintained by the ancient trade guild of the fourteenth and succeeding centuries when boys were 'bound out' to work seven years without pay, finds a modern counterpart in the liberal and well-organized apprentice program through which the Oakland Motor Car Company trains men for key positions in its factories," says R. A. Andree, Oakland director of education.

"Oakland has developed this program to a high degree. Our youngest 'apprentices' are high school boys who alternately attended school for two weeks and work in the factory for two weeks during their junior and senior years. Unlike the apprentices of former years however, they are paid for their work."

"After graduating from high school, these boys either may enroll at Oakland as full time apprentices or may obtain a complete college education at the General Motors Institute of Technology in Flint, Mich. Our college students spend one month at the Institute and then one month in the factory during a period of four years. Following their graduation from the Institute, they enter the factory on a full time basis in the branch of activity for which they have displayed the most aptitude. These young men represent an important potential source of factory executive material and as such are afforded every opportunity to earn advancement. "Night school courses and an automobile service training school also are provided for the further education of other classes of Oakland employees."

CHEVROLETS DROP IN PRICE

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 14.—Price reductions of $40 on all sport models in the Chevrolet Six passenger car line were announced here today by H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The models affected are the Sport Roadster, which is now priced at $615; the Sport Coupe, reduced to $615; the Club Sedan, now $625, and the Special Sedan, $685. All models formerly were priced $40 higher.

This latest move of the company brings the price range of the Chevrolet Six to less than the range of the four cylinder Chevrolet at the duties at Johannesburg.

Mrs. George Smith now occupies the old Dilley place.

Mrs. Joseph Wood returned from Mt. Clemens last week.

DISEASE SCOURGE LOOMS IN LAND AS DROUGHT ADVANCES

Drinking Water Shortage Seen As Menace To Public Health

Chicago, Aug. 21.—With drought conditions rapidly becoming worse throughout the country, the specter of disease in nationwide proportions has arisen through the shortage of potable water supplies to cause consternation in the ranks of sanitary engineers and health authorities. Typhoid, largely a water-borne disease, is probably the greatest fear, but dysentery and cholera are other dread possibilities of the situation.

Dried streams and rivers, plus normally good water sources which have become polluted because there is not ample flow for proper dilution, are threatening to bring about a health menace hardly equalled in recent times, engineers state.

A survey of reports from various points indicates that the shortage of clean water is bringing acute distress in many places. Bathing beaches have been closed in a number of eastern cities, while in several southern states conditions have reached the point where water for drinking purposes will have to be rationed unless relief comes soon.

According to reports from Indiana and other states, the stage is all set for a vast typhoid epidemic. The increase in disease has also followed the increase in reports of general resort to uncertain water supplies usually consumed without the precaution of boiling the water. At Quantico, Va., tank barges have been pressed into service to supply water since local potables supplies failed.

While population increases are partially responsible for the shortage, engineers believe that one of the greatest factors contributing to the present situation is that water supplies for domestic uses are becoming more and more scarce through public tendency to turn natural water channels into open sewers.

According to authorities, natural water resources are as much in need of reclamation as other of the nation's resources, and clean water is probably more important than most. It is believed by engineers that there would be no fear of shortage at the present time if the nation had been supplied with sufficient water reclamation projects. Reclamation, through the elimination of sewage pollution, is regarded by sanitary and health authorities as one of the next great steps in the direction of good health for the United States.

Continuation of the present day policies in regard to the handling of sewage, together with obvious population increases, may well be expected to turn some similar drought period of the future into a national disaster, health officials declare.

With the forest fire drought season already in excess of that for the entire 1929 period and with dry weather rapidly accumulating more hazards, Governor Fred W. Green made a personal appeal to all Michigan radio stations for assistance in broadcasting warnings to tourists and residents.

"Untold thousands of dollars in property and scenic values in Michigan are threatened by the present extreme forest fire hazard period," Governor Green's appeal said. "Dry fields, woods, and forests are ready to burst into flame. Every resident and visitor has a responsibility to use the greatest possible caution in preventing the spread of fire. Every camp fire, every match, every piece of burning tobacco, are possible destroyers. You cannot be too careful. A fire once started cannot be reported too soon. Call central, he knows."

Further pleas to Michigan newspapers and to the four tourist and resort bureaus of the state for help in bringing the appeal for caution in the forest fire zones to everyone, were made by Director George R. Hogarth of the Department of Conservation.

"The entire organized forest fire fighting force of the state is at work night and day, fighting fires and watching for possible new ones," Director Hogarth said. "However, the interest and active cooperation of the public is absolutely necessary if we are going to resist an appalling loss."

The Forest Fire Division of the Department of Conservation estimates that close to 55,000 acres have been burned over so far this year. The total burned over acreage for the entire 1929 season was 49,000.

REBUILDING OLD FORT MICHILMACKINAC

The stockade would be in conformity with a policy of Frank Kenyon, superintendent, to preserve all the old landmarks and relics at the park.

When the state acquired the park, by gift from the federal government in 1886, there were no visible evidences of any buildings, blockhouses or other structures on the grounds. "Relic hunters" had been excavating deep holes all over the original fort site, forming unsightly and unsafe places.

The Mackinac Island State Park Commission, controlling the Mackinaw City Park, forbade any more digging and the rule has been observed since that time. The old fort site has been graded, seeded and planted with elm trees.

Originally the state did not own the whole ground, but the rest has been acquired by purchase and the City of Mackinaw has closed the road running through it and added this area to the park. Today the entire site of the historical old fort is owned by the state and has been made accessible to the public.

59 Run 120,000,000
Ryan, All Copper Men
Wanted King, Got One
Lenin's Great Revenge

James W. Gerard, formerly ambassador to Germany, says "Fifty-nine men rule the United States." The remaining 120,000,000 will be interested to know that no public official, not even the President of the United States or any member of his cabinet, except Secretary Mellon, appears in the list of "fifty-nine that rule the nation."

It seems impossible, but perhaps it isn't. Sometimes men seem to rule that really do not rule.

Mr. Gerard says "All these men are too busy to run for political office." The really important man, of course, doesn't run when he can send a boy to run for him.

However, the marvelous fifty-nine don't seem to be doing very much running of the nation. Just now, however, they are letting the good old U. S. A. machine coast down hill, while each asks the other fifty-eight, "What do you think of the prospects?"

A short time ago copper fell to its lowest price in 20 years. This suggestion is offered to copper producers: Offer copper, in thin sheets of various thicknesses, suitable for flashing and other building and repairing purposes. Sell it to farmers, house holders and others at the lowest profitable price and unload your surplus.

Get cooperation from mail order houses and hardware stores, and advertise a definite price—15 cents a pound, if possible. Tell how many sheets there are in a pound of this copper sheeting and why it is better than tin or galvanized iron.

The copper surplus could be disposed of by copper men would undertake a really intelligent, persistent advertising campaign, using extensively the country weeklies, read by farmers, among other mediums.

This column would buy a few thousand pounds of copper sheeting, properly priced, to start the sale, and make money on it.

Dispatches from Bucharest say the new King Carol, who decided to come back and put the little boy out of the royal job, plans to get a brand-new wife. The wife was divorced from his first wife, Queen Helen, after he had been parted with a charming lady, making no secret of it.

When he returned from Paris, looking "right," it was said the divorce would be canceled. Now it is planned to let the divorce stand and get another queen.

He must marry the lady with whom he departed, but as it must be a "dramatic" or "royalty" marriage, Rumanians thought they needed a king and they have got one.

In the regular course of business, before the war, one unimportant Rumanian was put to death under the knout, by the Czar's government, for political offenses. That Rumanian's younger brother looked on, and his name was Lenin. The Czar is gone, great St. Petersburg, built by Czar Peter the Great, is now called Leningrad, and the Rumanoff jewels belong to Communists that will gradually trade them off for agricultural machinery—a wise trade, although Congo savages and many charming American ladies would not think so.

Whatever your opinion of Bolshevism, you must admit the complete way Lenin avenged his brother.

Some read with surprise the statement that organized crime in the United States, including bootlegging, takes in each year an amount running into thousands of millions, far in excess of the total revenues of the United States government.

It is no exaggeration. The get-rich-quick rascals, racketeers, gangsters, bootleggers, collect, squander and distribute in bribes a revenue greater than that of Uncle Sam.

One little item in the organized racketeering shows that in New York the "milk gang" levy on milk dealers amounts to $1,155,000 a week, and that is only one of a thousand "rackets."

When Gutenberg ran his little press by hand, using the type setting idea that was to fight the darkness of superstition with light, he printed a simple Bible.

One of his Bibles now becomes the property of the Congressional Library. One million five hundred thousand dollars bought Doctor Volzhe's book collection, in which the Gutenberg Bible is included. Doctor Volzhe bought the Bible from the monks of St. Blasius monastery in Austria for $275,000.

All that would surprise old Gutenberg if he could hear about it. But a modern printing press would surprise and interest him more.

Russia does not want silver hoarded or anything done to interfere with credit or to monopolize money. Four men convicted of hoarding gold were shot dead, which is the Soviet method of showing that it is displeased. If they ever have a federal reserve in Russia you may be sure that it won't push the interest rate on call money up to 20 per cent.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD CONCERNED OVER DROUTH

The Federal Farm Board is deeply concerned by the reports of serious drouth in a number of agricultural regions.

The United States Department of Agriculture and its allied agencies are now surveying the dry sections to determine the degree of damage to crops and its prospective effect on farmers and their livestock. In the meantime, the Federal Farm Board is studying its own power for financial aid.

Under the Agricultural Marketing Act the Federal Farm Board cannot give anything to anybody, but it has considerable discretion in the matter of terms on loans. There is also the Grain Stabilization Corporation through which the Board may work.

If feed distribution agencies or other business men and farmers in any stricken community, county, district, or state will form under the laws of their own state a responsible corporation which will guarantee the payment of notes to be given by individual farmers, a plan probably can be quickly developed whereby the Grain Stabilization Corporation can sell feed grains of any kind in car lots at market prices on easy payments of one or two years. The local organization would arrange for local distribution of the food thus supplied and see to the collection of the farmers' notes when due. It would make no profit on its own services and would make proper local arrangements for the payment of freight.

The Federal Farm Board can in this way help every community that is willing to help itself. The Grain Stabilization Corporation has plenty of grain and can buy more to replace that sold for food, thus keeping its own supplies intact.

The plan is believed to be practical and workable. It would relieve suffering, dispose of a part of the grain surplus, and put no man nor community under the necessity of asking for charity. If local communities will do their part, no substantial farmer need lack for feed for his livestock and no stock need be sacrificed on present markets.

Choose designs for children's clothes with ironing in mind, whether you make the clothes yourself or buy them ready made. Fussy ruffles and "waiver-shaped" parts take up the time of the laundress, and never look as well after washing and ironing as trim, smooth garments that are well-cut and made of interesting materials.

Probably fewer sandwiches would be discarded from children's lunch boxes if the bread were always of the best quality. Children will eat more bread if different kinds are served. Sometimes so simple a change as baking the bread in a new form—a twist or roll instead of a loaf, or cutting the sandwiches into fancy shapes with a cookie cutter, will improve the flavor given by added raisins, dried currants, dates, or nuts is another inducement to like the lunch bread.

The "hot pack" is not a new method of filling the jars to get good results. Here with the return of general business activity.

It is well to understand that the phrases "to save" and "to be thrifty" do not denote synonymous conditions. If they did mean the same thing, all that any of us would need to do to make personal advancement would be to save our money. We should need give no thought to matters of health, the efficient employment of time, education, travel, recreation and various other points that must constantly be kept in mind by those who are truly thrifty.

Let us cease confounding "saving" and "thrifty" because in so doing we are very apt to create a misleading impression. Save, yes; but when you save, make sure that you have only begun to be thrifty.

This is particularly true just at this time when there may be a tendency on the part of some to lean over backwards in saving and thus interfere with the return of general business activity.

Inside Information

Oysters are in season again. They are extremely valuable as a source of various minerals needed by the body. Like fresh fish, they supply iodine.

Here's a good September menu: corn soup, made from fresh corn cut from the cob; omelet with Spanish sauce, which contains tomatoes and peppers; rice; new yellow or white turnips; apple sauce from some of the windfalls, with cup cake.

Choose designs for children's clothes with ironing in mind, whether you make the clothes yourself or buy them ready made. We should need give no thought to matters of health, the efficient employment of time, education, travel, recreation and various other points that must constantly be kept in mind by those who are truly thrifty.

Let us cease confounding "saving" and "thrifty" because in so doing we are very apt to create a misleading impression. Save, yes; but when you save, make sure that you have only begun to be thrifty.

This is particularly true just at this time when there may be a tendency on the part of some to lean over backwards in saving and thus interfere with the return of general business activity.

OVER-EMPHASIS OF "SAVING" AT THIS TIME NOT WITHIN THE MEANING OF TRUE THRIFT

(By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.)

There is a difference between "thrifty" and "saving" and to over-emphasize and exaggerate the importance of the latter just now is not within the meaning of true thrift.

It should be borne in mind that no man or woman can be considered thrifty who does not save money. This is a fundamental concerning which there can be no argument but to say that you are thrifty simply because you save money would be as ridiculous as to say that you have a fine home because you have built a good foundation for it.

Let us understand then that after we have saved our money we are by no means through with the obligation we owe to our own self-interest. We must study how to employ that money so that it will mean the most for us and we must study also how to improve our minds, conserve our physical strength, master the tasks that lie before us, adapt ourselves to our surroundings, and, in short, keep ourselves ever moving along the path of progress.

Let us cease confounding "saving" and "thrifty" because in so doing we are very apt to create a misleading impression. Save, yes; but when you save, make sure that you have only begun to be thrifty.

This is particularly true just at this time when there may be a tendency on the part of some to lean over backwards in saving and thus interfere with the return of general business activity.

It is well to understand that the phrases "to save" and "to be thrifty" do not denote synonymous conditions. If they did mean the same thing, all that any of us would need to do to make personal advancement would be to save our money. We should need give no thought to matters of health, the efficient employment of time, education, travel, recreation and various other points that must constantly be kept in mind by those who are truly thrifty.

MICHIGAN STATE PARKS SHOW BIG INCREASE IN ATTENDANCE

A probability that close to 10,000,000 people will visit Michigan's 65 state parks this year has been predicted by the Parks Division of the Department of Conservation.

Attendance figures taken from 12 state parks in the northeast section of the lower peninsula for the season to July 15, show an increase over last year of 60 per cent.

While the parks throughout the state will not average such a high percentage of increase, there has been a noticeable increase in all other parks, according to the reports of the various park superintendents.

Attendance at the 12 northeast parks from the opening of the season to July 15 in 1929 was 611,000. For the same parks and the same period this year the attendance has been 1,031,000.

The Bay City State Park reported a 100 per cent increase in attendance over last year. Until July 15 this year 862,000 people had visited the park. For the same period in 1929 the attendance was 439,875. Park and

TOP O' MICHIGAN POTATO SHOW
OCTOBER 29-31

The new premium book for the Eighth Annual Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show is now in the hands of the printers according to B. C. Mellemcamp, Secretary of the Show Association, and will be available for distribution about the first of September.

The usual attractive premiums totaling over $1,500 will be offered. Several changes, including a complete Junior Department will be one of the new features.

The apple premium list has also been changed to add interest to the Show.

The usual contests will be held with the Master Potato Grower Contest and the Junior International Harvester Contest the main attraction along this line.

The Eighth Annual Show will be the best and biggest in the history of the Association. The new 4-H Club Camp Buildings at Gaylord gives unlimited space for expansion to a show that is already the largest of its kind in the country.

Anyone wanting one of the premium books should write to their county agricultural agent or to B. C. Mellemcamp, Secretary, Boyne City, Michigan.

The Eighth Annual Show will be held at Gaylord, October 29th, 30th, and 31st.

—B. C. Mellemcamp, Secretary.

A prize valued at $25,000 is to be given to the first place winner by the Top O' Michigan Potato Show Association and the winner will compete with winners from five other district potato shows at the State Show at East Lansing during Farmers' Week where the Michigan Master Potato Grower will be selected. This Master Potato Grower will receive $125 toward expenses in a potato tour in 1931.

The winners at each show will be judged on the following points: (1) Total production per acre—125 points; (2) field run quality—125 points; (3) ability to select type or show sample—100 points; (4) ability to grade—75 points; and (5) cost of production—75 points.

College supervisors will be given at digging time to certify yields and get cost of production. The contestant will be required to enter a peck of potatoes in the open class and grade his potatoes under supervision of the State Department of Agricultural officers.

Guy Eppler of Petoskey, winner of last year's prize is now on a trip to Maine and Prince Edward Island in eastern Canada and will appear on the Show program this fall.

Any farmers interested in this contest should see their county agricultural agent as soon as possible or write the secretary of the Show before digging his potatoes.

Due to the favorable conditions in northern Michigan this year as compared to other sections of the State, this territory should have a fine opportunity to win the State Contest. There should be at least 100 farmers competing at the Top O' Michigan Show.

TO BUILD T. B. SANATORIUM IN NORTH

Realizing the imperative need for a tuberculosis sanatorium for the northern portion of Michigan, representatives of at least 22 county boards of supervisors will meet on August 27 to formulate plans for action. The meeting which will be attended by more than 50 men, will be held at the AuSable Club in Crawford County.

One or more representatives already have been appointed by 22 of the 33 counties in the northern part of the lower peninsula. The counties which have named men to attend the meeting are: Alcona, Alpena, Antrim, Arenac, Bay, Benzie, Charlevoix, Clare, Crawford, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Iosco, Kalkaska, Manistee, Mason, Mecosta, Missaukee, Ogemaw, Otsego, Presque Isle, Roscommon, and Wexford.

The purpose of the meeting, which the Michigan Tuberculosis Association helped organize, is to discuss ways and means to provide more adequate sanatorium facilities for tuberculous patients in this part of the state. The most logical solution, in the minds of those concerned with the problem, is the erection of a northern state sanatorium to serve the counties in this section of the state.

Statistics from the Michigan Tuberculosis Association reveal that there is an average of 231 tuberculosis deaths each year in this area, and that there are approximately 2,000 active cases of the disease, most of which are without sanatorium care.

MUSKRAT MEAT A DELICACY

That muskrat meat is widely used as food and is frequently considered as a delicacy is indicated by a report of the Game Division of the Conservation Department showing that last year 2,578 muskrat carcasses were sold for food by various Michigan muskrat farmers. The carcasses, averaging about a pound of meat each, frequently sell for $2 a dozen.

Many muskrat trappers, it was said, value the meat as highly as that of other game.

The dark rich meat of the beaver is also highly prized by Indians as food, and many white trappers emphatically agree with them. Beaver tail is considered the choice portion and a great delicacy. But there are comparatively few who have had the opportunity to sample beaver meat as the season has been closed in Michigan since 1919-20.

RAIN DOES NOT END FOREST FIRE DANGER

A brief rain now and then is not a sign that the danger from forest fires is over. Unless a rain is prolonged it means only that fire fighters are given a brief rest from long hours with portable pumps and with shovels and cap turn their attention to the building of fire lines, according to Howard B. Sayre, chief fire warden of the Department of Conservation. The need for caution for fire is as great the day after a rain as it is during a period of dry weather.

The danger from forest fire exists in Michigan from April to December—from the time the snow first leaves the ground until it comes to stay again. Last year a forest fire was reported in December.

EAT ANYTHING

Alligators are not so discriminating in their choice of food as most reptiles, and they swallow strange things, says the U. S. Biological Survey. Biologists have examined some alligator stomachs that resemble a "small boy's pocket." Turkeys, birds, small animals, pebbles, dead wood, turtles, frogs, and empty shotgun shells have been found in the stomachs of these reptiles.

TROUT SEASON ENDS SEPT. 1

One of the most satisfactory trout seasons in Michigan in years will come to an end at midnight, Monday, September 1.

At that time every trout stream and designated "trout" lakes in the state will be closed to all fishing.

All trout fishing in any lake or stream in Michigan will cease at midnight, September 1. There are a few exceptions when rainbow trout fishing in certain designated waters will continue to specified dates after the regular season closes. These few exceptions are listed in the Digest of Fishing Laws, distributed by the Department of Conservation throughout the state.

Fishing for large and small-mouth bass will continue after September 1 in non-trout streams and all lakes except designated trout lakes up to and including December 31st. All other species of bass, bluegills, sunfish, perch, pike, perch, Great Northern and grass pike, muskellunge, lake trout, and all non-game fish may be taken in non-trout streams and in all lakes but trout lakes up to and including March 31.

Since the game fishing season opened last spring the Fish Division of the Conservation Department has received thousands of reel census cards from anglers who have made studies comments on fishing conditions. The consensus of opinion expressed through these cards has indicated a highly satisfactory fishing season generally throughout the state.

CENTRAL NORMAL TO DEDICATE NEW STADIUM OCT. 4

Mt. Pleasant, August 26—With tiling, draining and sodding completed, progress is being made so that in all likelihood Central State Teachers College can dedicate its new $50,000 athletic plant with the University of Michigan Junior varsity football game here Saturday, October 4.

Transfer of sod to the varsity gridiron has just been successfully accomplished in the face of drought conditions. Fencing of the 22 acre plot in its entirety and of the football playing field was begun by the Barnes Fence Co. of Detroit this week. The 7-foot chain link fence is manufactured in Adrian.

Ben Koenig, Traverse City contractor, has charge of construction of both the $12,000 miniature field house and of the permanent football stands. These stands are the gift of Mr. Pleasant business men. They will seat 2500 people. This seating capacity will be nearly doubled for big games by the use of new portable bleachers.

Coming hard on the discovery of natural gas in commercial quantities in the Isabella-Clare-Midland oil fields is the announcement that the new building on the field is to be heated by gas. It will be ready for use by September 20.

A sign is to be erected on college property bordering on Mission announcing to all travelers on U.S. 27 "Alumni Field of Central State College."

BIGGEST PERCENT OF GAME LAW ARRESTS CONVICTED

A man arrested for a conservation law violation hasn't much chance of being acquitted or getting his case thrown out of court.

Ninety-nine percent of all arrests for conservation law violations last year resulted in court convictions, figures compiled by the Law Enforcement Division of the Department of Conservation show.

Last year 4,161 arrests were made by conservation officers.

This gradual increase in the percentage of convictions is not mere chance, according to Hugh E. Green, Chief conservation officer. It is the result of a more effective working of a policy that has long been adopted by this Division. That is to exercise care in the making of an arrest—to be absolutely sure that a violation has been committed, and to be able to prove it in court.

The number of arrests made each year by conservation officers has no particular significance, Mr. Green said. A large number does not necessarily mean that more people are not heeding the conservation laws. Twice as many violators are warned and lectured as are taken to court. But when a man is taken to court he has a very slight chance of evading a penalty.

A brief rain now and then is not a sign that the danger from forest fires is over. Unless a rain is prolonged it means only that fire fighters are given a brief rest from long hours with portable pumps and with shovels and cap turn their attention to the building of fire lines, according to Howard B. AN ANNOUNCEMENT FROM FRANCE

It is announced that, due to the increase in motor accidents in France, provincial telephone exchanges will be kept open on Sundays and holidays and to a later hour on week days. This will seem a strange announcement to Americans who are accustomed to 24-hour telephone service every day of the year. However, in France the telephone system is government owned and operated and in the past service has not been provided from small centers on Sundays and holidays.

This is a striking illustration of the difference between government-operated industry and industry which is controlled by private initiative and enterprise.
